Valley College To Move Campus Next September

By Bill Tunnell

Persistent rumors on the Valley College campus and throughout the whole Valley forced your reporter to pursue them into Director Vierling Kersey's office. We found what may be the answer to this rumor,

"Plans are being discussed and formulated for the biggest move in Valley's life—the move to the new campus," stated Dr. Kersey. "The date of our new occupancy is to be the beginning of the fall semester, September, 1951."

The two aspects of the moving plan involved, according to Dr. Kersey, are:

The beginning of construction on several of the new permanent buildings for the college.

Simultaneously, temporary buildings from the present Gilmore Street location will be moved to the new site. New temporary buildings will be rushed to completion so that complete facilities of a temporary nature will be available and in use while permanent construction moves forward.

"The meetings of classes for the regular fall term and summer school activities will not be affected at any time," stated Dr. Kersey.

Don't start hitchhiking to the new campus as yet, but come fall—That will be all for now—more complete plans later on.

Blood Mobile Unit Seeks Community, Student Support

Blood donors were enlisted yesterday and the booth on the campus is still open today. Friends and relatives of students are volunteering to help Valley College reach its quota, says Edward Clark, sponsor of the drive for the Blood Mobile.

Donors have a priority on the existing blood supplies in time of an emergency, and all donors will be given a tag denoting their blood types.

"Blood collected on the campus will be used for local emergencies, and some will be forwarded to the armed services overseas," said Mr. Clark.

Valley will combine with Van Nuys High School, and neighboring junior high and elementary schools, to get the Blood Mobile to the college campus. Contributors will be signed through next week and any resident of the community is invited to donate his blood. Thirty percent of teachers at the junior high and fifty percent at the high school have pledged.

Anyone 21 to 60 is eligible to donate, but persons between the ages of 18 and 21 must have their parents consent.

Mr. Clark urges all to contribute a pint of blood to help some soldier. Clark may be contacted in R. 3.

Job Clinic Series To Be Continued, Announces Bruick

Valley College's job clinic will hold its second series of the semester next Tuesday and Thursday at 11 a.m. in R. 2 on Valley's campus, announces Mrs. Mary Bruick, coordinator of employment at Valley College.

Mrs. Bruick says the clinic is open to Valley students whether they have an application on file or not. Those students who have applied for a job should attend at least one meeting during the semester in order to keep their applications on file.

Wray Andrew, assistant manager at Penney's, Van Nuys, will be guest speaker at Tuesday's meeting. Mr. Andrew will discuss what employers expect from applicants. Members of Penney's staff will exhibit different types of dress often worn by applicants.

Faculty Picks Kermit Dale For President

Kermit Dale, the newly elected president of the faculty organization at Valley College, wishes to express his feeling of gratitude on being elected. "I think it a great honor and pleasure to be the new president of such a fine and friendly group of instructors here at Valley," stated Mr. Dale.

Helen E. Mindlin and Richard A. Knox also were candidates for the office of president.

Harry E. Beck is the newly elected vice-president, while Velma Olson and Ben McFarland composed the opposition for the office.

William "Dollars" Hawkinson was the sole candidate for the office of treasurer.

Eleanor C. Vactor and Ronald D. Brooks were the candidates for secretary with Miss Vactor winning the election.

TalentShow

Since the talent assembly, which was to have been presented yesterday, has been postponed to March 15, additional tryouts will be held Monday at 3 p.m. in College Hall.

Paul Trietsch, student, has been asked to write the script for the Talent Show.

Fox, Brault, Riggin Vying In Race for Yell King Job

"Three able candidates have volunteered to run for Yell King," Diana Serzow, commissioner of rallies, said this week.

They are Dick Fox, Gene Brault and Lee Riggin. The prospective cheerleaders will tryout at the March 29 rally, Miss Serzow disclosed.

Although these men have signed up to run, she urges others to compete for the position. Monarchs will vote for their choice at a special election.

Bulletin

The baseball game with Long Beach, the track meet with the UCLA Frosh and the tennis match with Long Beach today are all canceled because of the rainy weather. The baseball game with Santa Monica tomorrow at Reseda Park may be played if the grounds permit.

CORONETS CHOOSE SPRING OFFICERS

Women's service organization of Valley College, the Coronets, have announced the new officers for the spring semester.

Pat Coombs, retiring treasurer of the organization, was elected president. Vice president is Delta Miller.

Nancy Ohms is the new secretary; Carol Cole, treasurer; Marylin Kendall, historian; and Anabel Street, sergeant-at-arms.

Old officers were Nancy Ohms, president; Patsy Stark, vice president; Katherine Bettis, secretary; Charlene Backus, historian; and Delta Miller, sergeant-at-arms.

Mrs. Velma Olson, sponsor, remarked the immediate plans of the Coronets are the initiation of new members and the selection of pins and uniforms.

CREDIT FUNDAMENTALS DISCUSSED WEEKLY

Valley College, in cooperation with the San Fernando Valley Retail merchants, presents a class dealing with the fundamentals of retail credit. This class meets every Thursday evening from 7-9.

Marshall Myers, who is Credit Manager of Barker Brothers Corporation, discussed the "Types of Retail Credit Sales" at the meeting last night.

Next week a panel will be presented to discuss "Types of consumer Credit." It will be divided into five parts which are personal loans, secured loans, chattel mortages, letters of credit and F.H.A. loans.

"Baseball season is underway now, and we have a great team. Valley has some of the best track men in the league. I'll be cheering at the ball games and track meets. How about you?" stated Fox.

"Valley spirit needs improving. I'm going to help get more rooters out to the games—if I have to twist arms. Our baseball team looks good in practice. Let's support them," said Brault.

"Remember the fine cheering at the basketball rally? The reasons it was fine were all the Monarchs, who joined their voices in one loud roar.

"Our yells can be just as successful at games if as many people support them," commented Riggin.

Instructors View Teaching Method At Institute Meet

"Techniques for the Democratic Classroom" was the subject of Teacher's Institute No. 271 last Friday, in College Library.

With William McNelis, counselor, acting as chairman and Dr. Blanche Bloomberg, head of the English department as moderator, some of the benefits of the democratic method were described by the panel as follows:

1. The individual grows in appreciation of himself.
2. Tension is reduced in the classroom.
3. Competitive spirit is reduced.
4. The student is stimulated to work to capacity.
5. He grows in ability to solve problems.
6. He develops group techniques.

Serving on the panel were Howard L. Woolfan, Erwin H. Braun, Wilford Jenks, Eleanor Vactor and Noel Korn.

Addressing the large group, Mr. McNelis stated, "I would have Valley College known for its basic philosophy which is dignity and respect for the integrity of the individual."

Monarchs Attend Region Meeting At San Diego JC

Members of the Valley College Executive Council left this morning to attend a Regional Conference at San Diego.

Dick Yamashita, Associated Students president; Fred DeLuca, vice president; Kathy Moore, secretary; Ken Owens, commissioner of dances; Diana Serzow, commissioner of rallies; Phyllis Barskey, commissioner of assemblies; Joan Brask, commissioner of activities; Dellaine Hazen, commissioner of publicity and publications; and Mike Seeger, last semester's A.S. president and now ex-officio member of the Council, are the student representatives to the conference.

Also attending are Angelo Villa, faculty adviser to the Council, and Mrs. Nena Royer, dean of activities.

The group left in three cars and will travel as far as Harbor Junior College in them. When they reach Harbor, the representatives will board buses with student government leaders from East Los Angeles, El Camino and Harbor colleges and travel the rest of the way to San Diego in this manner.

Alpha Class Makes Plans For Semester

Spirited Alphas attended their class meeting last Tuesday to discuss possible group activities. Harry Heidel, president, presided over the meeting.

A proposal was made to have a class dinner. Support of the current blood donation campaign was discussed. It was felt by many that the reason Alphas are not registering is that a majority of them are not 18 years old.

"Our class is looking forward to attending the league baseball games which start with the game today at Long Beach. We'll be there rooting for the home team. Let's see many more Monarchs there," stated Heidel.

1423 Enroll For Daytime, NightClasses

Registration figures show that the enrollment for the spring semester has hit 1423. The day school climbed to 797 while the night school increased to 626. The break-down of the figures shows that the men out number the women, 476-321.

Walter Coultas, dean of instruction, when asked about the climb in enrollment said, "Our increase is attributed to the fact that we are offering a wider variety of courses requested by the community."

Some of these courses are machine and mechanical drafting, clinical laboratory techniques, typewriting, map reading and interpretation, and police administration.

Mendenhall Addresses Campus Circle K Club

Ferdinand Mendenhall, head of the Van Nuys chapter of the Kiwanis International and editor of the Van Nuys News and Greensheet, was guest of Valley College's Circle K Club last Tuesday, at its weekly meeting.

Mr. Mendenhall is helping to organize the club better and he hopes his visits to the Circle K meetings will lead to future visits to the Van Nuys Kiwanis International meetings by Valley College members of the Circle K.

Guy Bensusan, president of the Circle K, presided over the meeting that was held in the Study Hall at 12 noon. The club decided to hold all future meetings in the Study Hall at 12 noon.

Some of the subjects discussed at the meeting were as follows: the construction of a newspaper stand for THE VALLEY STAR, support of the Blood Mobile unit that is coming to Valley College, and the setting of dues for Circle K members.

The vacant office of assistant secretary to the treasury was filled by the election of Bob Kircher.

Too Much To Give?

Young men all over the United States are heeding the call to fight for freedom in faraway lands. Each one is going to do a job, just as any ordinary job at home might be done—to the very best of his ability.

Fighting a war requires more than soldiers alone can give. Everyone at home must contribute to the cost of war. Too many armchair citizens sit back complacently and say, "I pay taxes and buy savings bonds. The government I help support will take care of our fighting men's needs." True, the government does provide clothing, food, guns, equipment. When these supplies are lost, consumed or destroyed the government replaces them and Mr. Taxpayer agreeably foots the bill. But there is one supply that dollars cannot replenish, the price paid on the battlefield in lost lives and maimed bodies.

There is an important job people at home can do; it is a task for every healthy person over 18 years. Within each American's body flows five quarts of the most important life giving substance known to science—life itself—blood.

Since the beginning of this semester, THE VALLEY STAR has explained the need for whole blood as told by the Red Cross. Yesterday and today a booth is on campus to register blood donors. It is open from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Monarchs are urged to spread this information among their friends and neighbors.

Each service man pledges his life to our country. Is one pint of blood too much for each of us to pledge to him? —J. Anderson

Editor's Mailbox

Dear Mr. Tunnell:

Let's talk about the night students' activities at Valley College. We students feel it is a great privilege to attend the evening classes, but at the same time some of us feel that we are left out of many things—and one is your paper, THE VALLEY STAR. Do you have a night reporter? There are many things I'd like to see printed in the STAR—such as—Did you know that Mr. Prismon has more than 50 students attending his evening classes of philosophy? And did you know Mr. Prismon is in the groove to draw such a large class and hold their attention? Did you know the new instructor, Mr. McDonald, gave a Guilford Martin temperament test that was quite revealing to many of his evening students? And did you know that Mr. Wynn's evening classes on modern business is interesting enough to keep the class ten minutes late almost each evening?

Now Mr. Tunnell, if it is the STAR's policy, as well as the college's, to include the night activities at Valley College, undoubtedly your subscriptions will increase. Let's get together. Let's be distinctive, as you said.

Mrs. Faye Gillaspies
17170 Parthenia St.
Northridge, Calif.

EDITOR'S NOTE—I would like to voice my regrets at having made you feel left out. This situation is in the process of being corrected. A reporter, Dodie Joyce, by name, was assigned last week to cover all night class activities. If you, or anyone in night school, happens upon an interesting story, you would be doing us a great favor if you would turn it over to either Miss Joyce or Howard Woolfan, who is in charge of night school activities.

We are honored to receive your letter, and I am happy to know I have another reader for the FORGE. That makes three. Thanks—Bill Tunnell.

PROCLAMATION

Be it known that all who do not clear their coffee cups and such from the Student Union may find it closed from 10:30 to 11 each morning. The union, which has been a constant problem in the past, will either have to be kept clean by those using it, or be closed for a time each day while the Knights and Circle-K members do K.P.

Police Guard(?) Valley College

By Dodie Joyce

Valley College is well-guarded by 103 police officers!—taking police administration courses offered by Valley's evening school, under the supervision of Howard Woolfan. Many of those enrolled are intending to take the promotional civil service examination given every two years.

Police cars and motorcycles sprinkle Valley's campus every day and evening as officers attend courses in police administration, detective procedure and traffic laws and enforcement. Many students have lost the habit of "parking in the red" on the sly.

"Students are finding the course dealing with general police procedure quite helpful," stated Detective William Von Platen, instructor of the two-unit police administration class.

Detective C. L. Nelson who teaches detective procedure dealing with criminal investigation emphasized the avid interest police officers have in this type of course. Sergeant Robert Harvey, instructor in traffic laws and enforcement, commented on the enthusiasm of the students in his class.

Extended day enrollment has increased three times over last semester, and the additional courses this semester have interested many San Fernando Valley residents.

Late to class too much—think I'll get an outboard motor for this thing.

Expansion in Offerings Of Music Department

"It is our hope that as Valley College continues to expand, its music department will some day be the focal point of all musical interests in the San Fernando Valley." This statement was made by Richard Knox, instructor in Valley College's music department.

Mr. Knox, in his report on this college's music department, also said, "Here at Valley College we have a terrific amount of musical talent. But as we are offering more subjects for the students we wish that all persons interested in music would sign up for their favorite classes." Mr. Knox emphasized that the subjects were for all students whether they were music majors or not.

Albert Caligiuri, another music instructor, states, "We have expanded our curriculum until we now have classes in all four major sections. These are instrumentals, history, theory and vocalizing." Mr. Caligiuri said also that the department expects to expand much further in the near future.

The music department is now located in R. 13 on the Valley College campus. The former location was on the Van Nuys High School campus.

Some of the subjects being offered to Valley College students are advanced music appreciation, general music appreciation, voice class and other classes for more experienced pupils.

Library Open For Night Use

New library hours have been announced by Miss June Adams, librarian. They are from 8 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. for day students and from 6:45 to 9:15 in the evening.

The evening hours may also be used by day students to study or check out books.

"Our book collection continues to grow," stated Miss Adams. "In fact, we now have over 1400 books. To give an idea of how we've grown, from Dec. 14, 1950, to Jan. 30, 1951, we have received 382 books.

"Last Wednesday," she continued, "was the biggest day in the library. We broke all previous records for circulation by having 51 books checked out. In addition," Miss Adams added, "to show how we've expanded, we have two new fish."

PIANO ARRIVES; ANOTHER FIRST FOR MONARCHS

Resting in R. 13 after its arrival on the Valley College Campus is the latest addition to the music department, a piano. According to Albert M. Caliguiri and Richard A. Knox, music instructors, the new piano is a welcome addition.

Mr. Caliguiri says the piano will be welcome, as the music department has never had a piano of its own. However, the old piano will remain in College Hall for use at assemblies and dances.

The music department, Mr. Knox says, has graduated from Van Nuys High School, as they have recently moved from the high school.

First Aid Certificates Soon To Be Awarded

Out of 650 students who took the Red Cross first aid course, approximately 600 have passed, and they will receive their certicates in approximately two weeks, stated Helen Mindlin, physical education instructor.

Miss Mindlin added that students who passed the test are eligible to take advanced courses and upon completion of the advanced courses, they will be allowed to teach first aid. Instructors are paid for their services.

Students who missed parts of their courses will be allowed to make up the work they missed, under a plan set up by Walter Coultas, dean of instruction. After passing their final tests, they will be awarded certificates.

Red Cross certificates, according to Miss Mindlin, are good for three years, and students who did not pass the test are eligible to take the exam again.

The Valley Forge

By Bill Tunnell

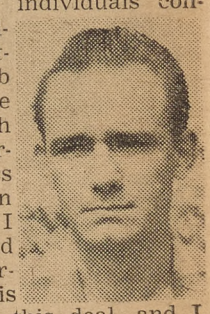
While sitting in the journalism room during one of my Blue Dazes from the opium pipe, I was startled by the black and gold of a cloth being worn by one of our Lion Cubs. This was a high school letterman's sweater.



In case of ignorance on the part of a few individuals concerning the Valley College Lettermen's Club ruling to the effect that high school lettermen's sweaters will not be worn on campus, I have just told you. The Lettermen's Club is getting hot on this deal, and I, for one don't blame them. You aren't from San Fernando High School or North Hollywood H.S. anymore. YOU'RE FROM VALLEY COLLEGE; and, until you earn your letter here why should you be allowed to wear anything but a Valley letter?

While we're on the subject, let's all forget we're from this high school or that high school and concentrate on pulling together for the betterment of Valley.

Get The News—How ? ? ?

Our policy on the STAR has always been to cooperate with all persons and organizations, but this can be worn a little thin when there is no cooperation in return. Certain parties have taken it upon themselves to either modify or withhold entirely the news from them or their organizations. There is a certain limit to this stuff, you know.

Another One

I'd still like to see one thing come off around here as planned. Now they have postponed the Talent Assembly for 15 days. What next? Pretty soon they will be postponing going to class on Monday mornings. Yea, I can see that.

What's all this stuff about a BEAN in Leo Paolino's eight o'clock Biology II class?

Mrs. Robert Van Voorhis, matron of honor, was attired in a strapless ballerina length ice green satin gown with a tulle skirt and matching satin bolero. She wore a pink tulle hat with flowers in a half halo effect.

Mrs. C. B. Horrall, the bride's mother, was gowned in a royal blue crepe gown, with a matching veil. She wore pink gloves and carried pink camellias.

The bridegroom's mother wore a full length pink crepe gown, with a small hat of flowers and tulle. She carried a corsage of white gardenias.

The attendants were Mrs. Robert Van Voorhis, matron of honor, and Mrs. Jack Horrall, Mrs. James Hunter and Miss Marjorie Wilhelm. Robert Van Voorhis was best man. Ushers were Jack Horrall, James Hunter and Norman Maunu.

After a wedding trip to San Francisco, the newlyweds will open their home at 14735 Burbank Blvd. near Van Nuys.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Horrall, 15708 Rayen Sreet, Sepulveda, residents for 15 years. She is a graduate of Van Nuys High School and attended Valley College for one year. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Sangster, 18302 Holsted, Northridge. He is also a graduate of Van Nuys High School and attended Valley College for one year.

The show will be closed with a wedding theme. The bride's gown, bridesmaid's gowns and the ring bearer's costume will be featured.

"The fashion show is one of the outstanding events on the campus," stated Miss Helen Mindlin, AWS sponsor. "Being selected as a model for the show is one of the privileges that all women on campus desire," she added.

Mrs. Nena Royer, dean of activities at Valley College, was the guest of Mrs. Evelyn Fields, dean of students at East Los Angeles Junior College, last Friday, Feb. 23.

Other guests included the deans of students from Los Angeles City College, Los Angeles Technical Junior College, Harbor Junior College and Pierce Junior College.

The purpose of the meeting was to discuss student social and entertainment activities and present plans for the trip to San Diego Planning Conference. Lunch was served.

"I think it's very helpful as well as pleasant to make our plans together because we learn a great deal in conferring with one another whether we are a new or old college," stated Mrs. Royer.

Marcy Gives Slumber Party

The group slept in the den in front of a roaring fire. Lights were turned off at about 3 a.m.

Speaking for the girls, Miss Lorona said, "We had a great time but I wish Jeanne's father had waited until later than 8:30 a.m. to start the coffee percolating. I wonder why it is called a slumber party."

Coronets Model At Fashion Show

Three Coronets, members of Valley College's women's service organization, are modeling for a fashion show which will be given on Saturday, March 10, at the Masonic Temple on Sherman Way. The show will be sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's Club of Van Nuys.

The girls who are the models are Delta Miller, Jeanne Marcy, and Nancy Ohms.

Cruising the Campus

By Art Brault

Here we are again; back for another week. I have a few little items which may or may not interest you. It all depends on which side of the fence you're on.

Baby Makes Four

You may have noticed that Dean Reeser has no buttons left on his shirt. There is a logical explanation for this phenomenon; Dean's wife, Ione, just presented him with their second br—, I mean child. The new addition was christened Marcia. Their other kid is 26 months of age and is called Jerry.

Large Crowd

Here is a complete list of the Valley rooters who attended the Long Beach game. The total is eight: Jack McCurdy, Dellaine Hazen, Gene Brault, Ron Wagenbach, Jim Ahern, Jim Smith, Dick Degnon and yours truly. The attendance picked up considerably at the San Diego game, and I could never hope to catalog the crowd that was there. It might be a good place to start from, now that baseball and track season are here. Go on out and give them a little support.

Ski Scene

Edward Clark, sponsor of the Ski club, attempted to round up a few members of his organization for a trip to Big Pines last Saturday. Unable to do so, Mr. Clark, as the expression goes, took off by his lonesome like a herd of turtles. Skiing conditions were poor, and Mr. Clark, undismayed, got acquainted with, and accepted an invitation from, the Hollywood Ski Club. He spent the night at their lodge and met Dick Cronin, board member of the host club, who informed him that he was planning on enrolling at Valley next semester. It's a small world.

Romantic Twosome?

The dance following the San Diego game was so crowded that I couldn't turn around. Ken Owens and I did a lovely two step and made a perfectly charming couple. Where were you?

30

Until next week I shall bid adieu. Spanish is calling, hasta marajuana!

Bob Davis (no relation to the drama instructor).

Monarch Basketballers Scare San Diego Five; Lose To Long Beach

The Valley College Monarchs almost wound up the 1951 Metropolitan Conference basketball slate in royal style but instead were forced to settle for giving San Diego's titlists a real scare. The Monarchs tripped in front of the Knights in he last two minutes and fell, 76-73, on Saturday night in the Van Nuys High gym after bowing to the championship hungry Long Beach Vikings, 89-65, on Friday evening as visitors.

Coach Ben McFarland must have ignited his five before sending them out to face the gallant Knights and to try to send the Metro race into a tie. Even amazed at themselves, the Monarchs appeared to have all the requirements to perform this feat in the first half as they jumped off to a hefty lead immediately. Valley led by 13 points midway through the first half and the San Diego quintet began to frown on the suggestion of a tie with their rival neighbor Vikings. San Diego's Brady and Fuller plus three edged back into contention and swept the halftime lead from the Monarchs, 35-34.

When the sparks started to fly again, neither team could find a larger lead than three points. With the accurate shooting of Howard Cole, Ralph Clements and Tom Crane, the Monarchs hung onto the Knights, who had now warmed up to the strange rims, nets and backboards of VNHS. With about three minutes to play, San Diego took a four-point lead that began to hold as the clock slid by. When the red light went on in the last minute of play, Valley's efforts looked worthless. And San Diego crawled away with the crown as Ed Austin's game-ending basket helped only Valley's feelings.

Again victims of Long Beach's height and rebound ability, the Monarchs' first half failure hung the tag of defeat on Valley once more. The Valley squad came back to outscore the Vikings in the second half and to take its share of tips but the lead was too large. Viking Bob Smith set a new 1951 Metro individual scoring record with his 36 points.

SPORTS Before Your Eyes

By Jack McCurdy

Coach Ben McFarland is probably already thinking about next season's basketball season, and in front of his mind is, no doubt, the names of Glenn Abney and Chuck Reed. Abney comes from University High, Santa Monica CC (where he made second string All-Metro Conference guard in 1946), and Kansas State. He went to Kansas on a scholarship but moved to the Valley where he now has a home with his wife and baby. At Santa Monica he was fourth in the league in scoring with a 238 total and averaged 17 points per game. At least next year's squad will have an All-Metro player.

Chuck Reed, All-Valley guard from North Hollywood, wants to go on to Oregon University to join his Husky teammate, Andy Johnson, but if he gets the Monarch bug, he might stay at Valley.

The baseball squad will be starting conference play today after five practice games. The big ones are El Camino, East LA, Long Beach and San Diego. Bakersfield can be counted on. Hustle is the big word from Terry Morse and a long ball from Mark Raphael. Omar Steckel, who pitched batting practice for the Cincinatti Reds some time ago ,is now 36 years old. He's the Monarch's real veteran. An all-around athlete—if there ever was one—is Dean Reeser. He excels in baseball, track (high jump), football and basketball. And can he smash a ping-pong ball!

Track Squad Battles UCLA In First Meet

Valley College's track team meets the UCLA freshmen in their first meet of the season this afternoon at 2:30 on the UCLA track.

The Monarchs have been training hard for three months and will be seeking revenge for the defeat handed them by UCLA last year.

Sprinting the dashes for Valley today will be Bob Bowen, Jerry Dahlquist, Carl Peacock and Phil Serrins, while Wes Hessler and John Godfrey run the 440. Ed Masry and Don Hoover are the top candidates for the 880. The mile, which is one of Valley's strongest races, will be run by Jim Smith (all Metro Conference miler last year and holder of the Conference record), Shelly Auerbach, John Garcia and Dwight Mobley. Wes Morris will run the two mile with the aforementioned runners except Smith. John Hopkins and Jack Langford will handle the shot put and discus, and Phil Neimi and Dick Eaton will broad jump. Ed Austin will be Valley's lone high jumper. Kenny Hall and Bowen will run the hurdles, while the relay will be made up of four of the distance or middle distance men.

Johnson's Nine Topples Compton, Bows To Glendale

Still keeping a jump ahead of the 500 percentage, the Monarch baseball team met competition in practice three more times and managed to come through with a win, a loss and a—tie.

On Tuesday, Feb. 20, Valley traveled to Glendale to play to a time limit and a tie game, 3-3. The Monarchs had to score two runs in the top of the seventh, the last inning, to avoid defeat. Omar Steckel started the game for Valley, and Dean Reeser followed in the last three innings. Mark Raphael collected two hits in four trips, and Terry Morse had two for two. Raphael's double in the sixth was the longest hit of the day.

On the following afternoon, Compton's Tarters came to the Reseda Park to be sunk,7-6, in the last of the eight, the first overtime inning, by a homerun by Terry Morse. Morse pitched the last two scoreless innings for the Monarchs and then came up with the big blow with darkness threatening. Morse went two for four and Dean Reeser hit three for five, including a first inning homerun.

When the Glendale Vaqueros came to Valley's home diamond, the Monarchs bats were for the first time this season quieted, and the home squad fell, 7-4. Glendale knocked out nine hits off starter Omar Steckel and Dean Reeser. Kenny Wolters went two for four, leading Valley hitters.

Valley Baseballers Open Metro Season Today

Tennis Team In Opening Metro Matches Today

Long Beach City College and Santa Monica C.C. will provide the opening Metropolitan Conference tennis opposition for Valley College as the Monarch netters embark on the 1951 tennis season.

The Monarch racket swingers will follow the baseball team around a round-robin circuit. swing. Coach Ben McFarland's squad will open against Long Beach today at the beach city and tomorrow will tangle with Santa Monica C. C. at Reseda Park.

At this writing, Dave Summers appears to have first singles nailed down, but Rick Bowen, who is pressing him in second singles, will be right in there by match time. Frank Kresse is all but in as third man. Wallace Whitney will probably play fourth man, and lone letterman Jon Hermann holds down the number five spot.

Club Program Gets Underway In Basketball

Intramural basketball got underway last Tuesday and was highlighted by two teams dropping from the loop and the Pales playing over its game with the Radiators after dumping them, 34-16.

Coach E. Y. Johnson declared the circuit opener no contest after it was ruled that the Pales had violated a technicality in not having a member on its playing roster in the opening tilt against the Radiators. The game was to be re-played yesterday.

Bill Tunnell, after a slow start, got rolling and paced the Pales' attack, netting 14 points for the encounter. Dick Degnon, Pale forward, trailed Tunnell with 10.

The halftime score favored the winners, 16-6. The tight Pale defense spelled defeat for the losers. Kent McFarland and Jim Smith led the losers on offense and defense.

Several clubs have yet to turn in playing rosters and their $1 fee. They are asked to do so at once.

WAA Elects New Officers

The Women's Athletic Association of Valley College elected new officers for the spring semester last Monday afternoon.

Evelyn Hansen was elected president of the organization; Joyce Morgan, vice president; Mary Lou Meyers, secretary; Pat Holliday. treasurer. The sports manager will be appointed by the president.

Outgoing officers are Diane Everts, president; Evelyn Hansen, vice president; Flora Wells, secretary; and Nadine Wells, treasurer.

Baseball gets under way in full swing in the Southland Jaysee ranks as the Metro Conference schedule is given the green light and Valley College's nine hops down to Long Beach CC to meet the Vikings today at 3 p.m. on the Long Beach Recreation diamond.

The Monarchs, after showing with a fair two won, one lost and one tied record, begin the slate as starting time has once again crept upon them. In conditioning play, the Valley squad has shown signs of a good hitting ability but a weakness in the pitching chores. Coach E. Y. Johnson has only one proven reliable starter in Brad Browne. With long ball hitting coming from Mark Raphael, Kenny Wolters, Terry Morse and Dean Reeser, the hitting part of the game shouldn't give too many headaches to the Valley mentor.

Long Beach boasts some blasting victories, like a 13-8 win over Riverside, and another 15-4 victory. The Vikings suffered a 3-2 loss from Muir when a last inning rally died.

On Saturday, Valley takes on Santa Monica at Reseda Park at 2 p.m. The Corsairs appear to have an adequate team with the pitching department probably standing out. The Corsairs were drubbed by Loyola, but held their own in games with jaysee squads.
